WELCOME TO ART AT THE SOURCE OPEN STUDIOS 2024!

Sebastopol Center for the Arts (SebArts) launched Art at the Source more than 30 years ago. It was created by a handful of passionate people – and it's still going strong today. This program supports established and emerging artists in creating a unique event each Spring.

This year, 137 Sonoma County artists will open their private studios to the public. If you're curious about what inspires their creations and how they accomplish their pieces, this is a perfect time to find out. As you visit studios, you'll have an opportunity to engage with the artists and learn about the personalities behind the art.

Take a minute to create your own art experience and plan your tour by selecting artists presented in this catalog. Map out the studios you want to visit, and then follow the yellow Art at the Source signs to visit artists of your choice. Also, viewing the Preview Show at SebArts is always a great first stop to see every artists' work in person, the Opening Reception is May 11, 2-4 pm

A nonprofit organization committed to cultivating creativity and inspiring appreciation for the power of art, SebArts produces curated gallery exhibitions, Art at the Source, Art Trails, LitCrawl, concerts, adult and youth education, the Academy Award® qualifying Sebastopol Documentary Film Festival, and the opportunity to practice ceramics at our own full-service ceramics studio.

On behalf of my whole team, I thank you for playing an important part in supporting our local artists and our community.

Serafina Palandech,
Executive Director

Experience Art, Make Art, Share Art, and Celebrate Creative Thought.

4A Suki Diamond
CERAMICS

My unique style is characterized by lively and endearing anthropomorphic designs. My love of painting and drawing has influenced many of my creations, such as clay sculptures and pots.

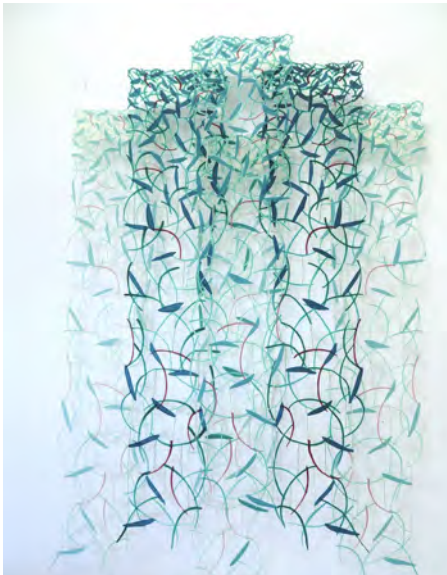

1237 Bing Tree Way, Sebastopol
SukiDiamond.com

4B Carie Krumme
JEWELRY

As a young girl I spent hours walking the sands of the Great Lakes, fascinated by the spirals and colors of nature. Today I incorporate these shapes into my work, sculpting pieces of jewelry and art.

30 Caren Catterall
PRINTMAKING

Imaginative etchings, collagraph prints and encaustic. I create impossible and magical worlds to give us hope and wonder, drawn from the well of human experience, telling the stories we need to hear.

11214 Occidental Rd, Sebastopol
CarenCatterall.com

32 Niko Prevolos
PAINTING

I paint in acrylic with a bold palate and a loose hand. Where my primary interests are split between rural landscapes and portraits. My time living in Hawaii also introduced me to the richness of color of the tropics and my work often takes me on a 'vaction' where I indulge in the saturation.

1195 Furlong Rd, Sebastopol
DwellingPoint.com/art

37 Steve Forrest
WOODWORKING

Decorative and functional woodturning, emphasizing form, figure, finish, and feel; bowls, vessels, platters, boxes and other objects made from local woods for everyday use and everyday beauty.

1900 Jonive Rd, Sebastopol
